

Web Resources

In addition to contacting your State agency for information about the Summer Food Service Program, consider the following resources. FNS and the nonprofit organizations listed below can offer ideas, tips, publications, and other support material to assist you in building a stronger and more stable Summer Food Service Program in your area.

USDA Food and Nutrition Service

www.summerfood.usda.gov

www.fns.usda.gov

These sites contain the single largest Federal resource available for local sponsors who want to start, expand, or publicize a feeding program during school breaks/vacations. If you are already participating in SFSP, you will find many useful resources and contacts to make your program even better.

American School Food Service Association

www.asfsa.org

The site contains a wealth of information on child nutrition.

America's Second Harvest Food Banks

www.secondharvest.org

This is the nation's largest domestic hunger relief organizations with over 200 food banks and food-rescue programs.

California Food Policy Advocates (CFPA)

www.cfpa.net

California Food Policy Advocates is a private nonprofit organization dedicated to improving the health and well-being of low-income Californians by increasing their access to nutritious, affordable, and safe food.

California & Nevada Community Action Association (Cal-Neva CAA)

www.cal-neva.org

Cal-Nev CAA is a nonprofit organization comprised primarily of California and Nevada Community Action Agencies.

Food Research and Action Center (FRAC)

www.frac.org

FRAC is a nonprofit and nonpartisan research and public policy center that works to improve public policies to eradicate hunger and under nutrition in the United States.

Oregon Hunger Relief Task Force (OHRTF)

www.oregonfoodbank.org

OHRTF was created by the State Legislature in 1989 to act as a resource on hunger and as a statewide advocate on hunger issues.

Summer Meals:
Food That's In When School Is Out!

www.summerfood.usda.gov

USDA is an equal opportunity provider and employer.